The Formentera Department of Social Welfare reports that islanders with a mind toward volunteering can now sign up for a special clinic set to take place 2 April at the Casal d'Entitats.

Geared towards volunteer groups and regular people alike, the training session will be led by staff experts from the Balearic Islands Platform for Volunteering (Plataforma del Voluntariat) in cooperation with the Govern balear. A specially-tuned session for groups and team leaders will happen first, Thursday 2 April from 11.00am to 1.00pm, focusing on guidelines in effect since November 2019 governing volunteer work. Then, from 3.00pm to 6.00pm, a course in basic volunteer training will offer normal folks an overview of what to expect, unpacking details about the volunteer groups that are out there, the rules to remember and the resources that are out there.

Formentera's Department of Social Welfare encourages all islanders, whether already affiliated with a specific association or simply curious about starting out, to come out for the gathering.

Attendees must register in advance by visiting the Formentera Department of Social Welfare and www.plataformavoluntariat.org , sending an email to formacio@plataformavoluntariat.org and phoning toll-free 900 100 979.
