

The Formentera Department of Territory reports that the end of emergency orders on Monday will coincide with the resumption of ban on construction projects that cause bothersome noise and vibrations in urban areas and tourism spots. Normally in force from 1 May to 15 October, the ordinance was placed on hold in light of the delayed start of the tourist season.

Starting Monday, authorisation will be limited to conduit repairs essential to safety or hygiene, and urgent works previously submitted for review and having obtained express permission from the Consell.
