

At 5.00pm on Thursday 5 May, Raül Genovés, who holds a PhD in Philosophy and is a specialist in emotional management, will conclude the 'Talks for families' lecture series with a talk entitled "Emotional education for families and teachers" in the auditorium of the Formentera Day Centre.

Organised by the Formentera Office of Social Welfare, the fourth 'Talks for Families' has included nine talks since it started last year on 21 October. To make it easier for parents to attend, the talks also include a babysitting service for children three and up.
