

Yesterday the Balearic Institute of Public Safety delivered green and white badges of honour, public congratulations and quality seals to 14 local police of Eivissa and Formentera. In attendence at the event were Josep Marí, councillor of interior; Félix Ramos, chief of Formentera Local Police; liaison officer Pilar Daviu and Xavier Torrens, officer of road safety education.

At the proposal of the Consell de Formentera, Officer Ramos received the Police Merit Cross with white distinctive for 30 years of service with an outstanding career. Officer Daviu received the professional quality seal of the Consell de Formentera's school liaison programme.

Councillor Marí applauded Police Chief Ramos for his career and efforts at the helm of local law enforcement. He also thanked Officer Daviu for her great dedication as a local school liaison specialised in schools and minors.

The ceremony also included the presentation of a year-end report from the 2021-2022 School Liaisons and Road Safety Education course.
