

Next Saturday promises to be a day full of festivities and special treats in Formentera. For one, it will mark thirty years for the artisanal market in La Mola. Starting at 6 pm, attendance is requested of residents and tourists alike for a party that is sure to please.

Erik, Mimosa and other musicians from the usual cast of market entertainers will be on hand, along with other artistic performers and even magicians.

The Artisanal Market of La Mola was founded in 1984 by an association of local artisans seeking to bring together their creations into a single point of exhibition and sale.
