

This morning the Formentera Council's office of tourism handed out special accreditations to the businesses that have recently joined SICTED, a system of measuring destination quality across local businesses and public services in tourism.

At present there are 46 Sicted member businesses on Formentera; 27 are hotels, hostals and apartments, one deals in transport, one is a travel agency and one is the Formentera Local Police. The local Formentera police force, as a public safety service, has also implemented Sicted recommendations.
